

Friendship in a new way

Aining Wang & Kathy Jiang

OUR TEAM

California College of the Arts(CCA)
Interaction design major
Junior Students

Kathy-China, Beijing
Elena-The U.S. , Santa Clara

A decorative graphic at the top of the slide features a string of seven stars in various colors (green, orange, yellow, green, orange, yellow, green) arranged in a slight arc. Each star contains a letter that spells out 'FRIENDS'. The string is flanked by blue lines with small yellow and orange dots. A small orange heart is on the left, and a white cloud is on the right.

Features of the Topic

Friendship in the New Way is a follow-up event of Kat Vello's lecture at CCA on how to build friendships in adulthood.

In this event, we will discuss the opportunities of maintaining friendships online and help participants gain more confidence for adjusting themselves in new communication ways.

A decorative graphic at the bottom of the slide features a white heart on the right and white clouds on the left and right corners. The background is dark purple with small white dashes scattered throughout.

Tell us about yourself!

Let's go around and do a self introduction.

Tell us about yourself:

- What's your name?
- Where are you from/located?
- Did you experience in maintaining long distance relationships before? How do you feel about it?

Come Light-up in Mural!

- Your current location
- Your friends locations

Current Situation...

Due to the Covid-19, everyone need to social distance.

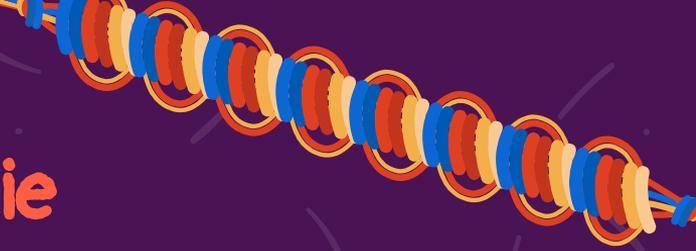

Methods to keep relationship between people turned to be online.

How could people still maintain their relationships continuously?

Two Truths and a Lie

Think about two truths and a lie which you like.

Put your name in the square .

Follow by the order and talk about them.

Others vote for the lie.

Reveal the answer and discuss how you feel about this?

It's not that hard to maintain long-distance relationship!!!

Thanks!

